THE HOLIDAY SEASON AND CHRIST-

MAS ENTERTAINMENTS. The Children Celebrate the Event with Carols Rec tations and Other Exercises-A Grand Day at Font Hill-The Events of the Week Fully Recorded. Christmas was made joyous to the Children in many ways but the children in return contributed to entertain their friends by public celebrations, singing joyful songs and indulging in general good cheer. Below will be found the names of many little ones and older ones too, who participated in the festivities of the season.

LUTHERAN SUNDAY SCHOOL, ELLICOTT

CITY. The Sunday School of the German Lutheran Church, of Ellicott City, celebrated Christmas Wednesday night in its usual entertaining style. A large and beautifully trimmed Christmas tree adorned the space in front of the pulpit and the program as rendered showed careful preparation, some of the scholars showing especially bright minds. Following was the program:

Organ voluntary, Mrs. Carrie Grimes prayer, by Pastor; singing by choir, "Glory to God on High;" responsive reading; recitation, Martin Rodey, "To singing, school and choir, "Praise Him;" dialogue,"Little Pilgrims," Wm. At the close Mr. James Bierly, leader of the choir, was presented with a purse a gift of the choir. Mr. John Rich was very happily replied to by Mr. Bierly. Rev. E. C. Ide was also presented with a purse by Miss Maggie Gerwig, being a gift from the Sunday School. Mr. Ide made a few remarks feelingly Rich, committee of arrangements. The Mr. Charles A. Gerwig is superintendent.

The citizens at and around Jonestown are willing to accord Miss Ida Scott, teacher of the public school there, great praise for her untiring efforts in maintaining high efliciency in the school. The entertainment given under her manage ment Wednesday night last was largely attended-about 250 persons being present-was thoroughly enjoyed and all voted the affair a success. Following was the program:

EMORY M. E. CHURCH. The entertainment given by the Sunday School of Emory M. E. church here was a rendering of the Christmas Cantata entitled "How we waited for Santa Claus." The room was jammed and all were delighted with the music and the general rendition of the piece. It was considered the best entertainment given by the Sunday School in a number of years. Its success was due mainly to the efforts of Messrs. Grant Mercier, Horace Isaac and Mrs. Chas. A. Herrmann. Mr. Benjamin Mellor, of Mark, very successfully personated Santa Claus. Presents of candy were distributed to the children at the close.

Entertainment at Relay. The annual Christmas festival of the Relay Presbyterian Sunday school, at made a neat presentation speech which Relay Station, was held in the church Thursday night under the direction of Mr. Monroe Mitchell, superintendent. ALBERTON ITEMS.

ALBERTON, Dec. 27.-Dr. J. T. Waltemeyer who was ill this week, has fully recovered.

Xmas was duly celebrated in our town. All day long the boom of guns and the crack of the pistol and fireworks could be heard. Some young men secured a long piece of two-inch gas pipe and loaded it and plugged both ends. When it went off the pipe burst and the noise of explosion was terrific. The boy had his day surely, if we can call noise his enjoyment. The day was celebrated at the churches also.

At the Catholic Church the children were entertained by gifts and stereopticon views. The music, &c., was in charge of the Jesuit students of Woodstock College. High mass was said early Xmas

At the P. E. Church the Sunday-school was given a very nice treat in the shape of candies, fruits, toys, &c. The music was under the direction of Mr. D. M.

At the Evangelical Church the day was begun by a prayer meeting at 5 A M. The Sanday-school exercises began at 7 P. M., and were of a very high order. The carols were sung by a specially organized choir, with instrumental ac companiment. The instrumental part was: Organist, Miss Annie Long; violinist, Miss Ida Rhoads; cornetists, Samuel Stump and Elmer M. Harn; tenor, Wm. D. Long: bass, John V. Long; recitations were given by the children, Masters Webster Moore and Alphonsus Long excelling. The prettiest and bes rendered part of the whole program was the song Rock-a-bye," by three little Misses. The | the days. presents were given in accordance to at tendance, the school being divided into five classes accordingly. About five hundred were present at the services. In the first place, the property known as Font Hill has been at various times the home of several distinguished floward countians, notably the Gordons, Rigdelys and Mercers. county, were the victims Wednesday night of losses by the invasion of thieves. The boldest robbery was that perpetrated at the residence of Mr. James Stewart. While the occupants were asleep Mr. Stewart's bedroom was entered and $48 in money and a number of valuable papers, including a fire insurance policy, were taken from a drawer in the room. A bank book belonging to Mr. Stewart's son, which was also carried off, was on Thursday morning found on a vacant lot near the dwelling. Entrance was effected by prying open a window in the rear part of the house. Several articles of value were also taken from the premises of Constable Conrad Zink, who resides in the same vicinity, while two or three others are reported to have been victimized to a more or less extent. The offenders have not yet been apprehended.
